

risk profile

“Working with Drive Smarter, I’ve tried to ensure the Risk Profile goes beyond a simple indication of overall low, medium or high risk. Employers require more detail than that - they need solid data to make informed decisions on buying the appropriate interventions. And drivers need feedback on which aspects of their driving style currently need some attention.”

Drive Smarter Road Risk Management Programme Risk Profile Tool

Our Risk Profile Tool collects pertinent, fact-based information about a driver, and provides your organisation with data to help you decide who may be at risk, based on your own internal risk factors. We offer a flexible approach that captures information about drivers, vehicles and journeys, and flags certain factors such as annual mileage driven, points on licence, and journey times. As these factors differ across organisations, our tool can be easily modified to take into account how your organisation calculates risks.

The risk profile tool is included free with both our e-Learning products.

The Goal of the Risk Profile Tool

The Drive Smarter Risk Profile Tool is designed to capture pertinent, fact-based information about a driver. This information can then be used to decide who your high, medium and low risk drivers are, based on your own internal risk factors.

The Process

The first step of e-Learn Complete and e-Learn Essentials is to complete the Risk Profile. When users first log into the system, they are directed to answer all the questions presented to them. Each question consists of a number of possible answers, and users select the option most relevant to them. A risk ‘score’ is then applied to the information captured using the information provided by you, and each question is assigned a category of High, Medium or Low risk. We can also flag responses that require immediate attention. For example, you may wish to always have your attention drawn to drivers with 9 points on their licences, or those who do not have the correct insurance. The information can then be reported on through our administration centre, and can be used to decide further training options, therefore reducing risk to the organisation.

Subjects Covered

The Driver: Age, driving licence information, mileage, accident history, driving offences, and medical information including eyesight

The Vehicle: Ownership, insurance and maintenance

The Journey: Typical journeys taken, typical journey times, Highway Code and planning
